Accident Injuries Fatal to Student

Paul A. Pollette, 14,
Succumbs Week After
Bicycle-Auto Crash

Paul Ashley Pollette, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pollette, 2912 Dogwood drive, died at 9:20 p.m. Tuesday at the St. Louis Children's Hospital, where he had been in critical condition since being struck by a car at 7:30 p.m. July 13 at 1509 Twenty-third street. An inquest is pending.

Traffic mishaps this week totaled 18, with nine persons injured.

A student at Central Junior High School, he had completed the eighth grade last year. He was riding his bicycle at the time of the collision with a car driven by John F. Standiford, 2245 Madison avenue.

Standiford said he did not see the boy, who was riding across the street, until it was too late to stop. The boy received head injuries and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where a tracheotomy was performed and he was later transferred to the Children's Hospital.

Born in Camp Pendleton, Calif., he had lived in Granite City with his parents and 16-year-old brother, Ross. Hugh Pollette, for the past two years, resides at his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. and Mrs. Mary Ann Pollette, 1000 S. 10th St., St. Louis.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Theft a Leading Cause of Claims On Home Contents

(Tenth of a series)

In discussing home insurance and ways of reversing a trend toward greater difficulty in obtaining coverage, attention is called to the fact that theft of contents is one of the major causes of losses associated with fire and windstorms.

However, theft of property is another category that cannot be overlooked.

The perils of fire and wind and other phases of insurance are discussed in the first nine articles of this series.

It is estimated that the average family loses about $100 a year in theft of contents.

That particular category accounts for a third of a million paid claims each year. In its insurance on residence contents, theft claims rank third in total number of payments, but first in amount.

School Budget In GC May Top $10 Million

Includes Construction
Financed by Bonds; New Rate Up Only Slightly

Granite City Schools may break the $10 million barrier with their budget for the first time in 1965-66. A tentative appropriation of $10,202,201 was set at a board meeting last night.

The stratospheric figure is somewhat misleading in that it includes $2,500,000 for construction, Supt. Russell D. Johnson explained. Allocations for regular purposes are expected to total $7,702,201, compared to $7,137,926 budgeted in 1964-65.

The new budget will go on public display beginning July 27 and continue until a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 13, following which final action by the board will be taken.

Eight Largest in State

In reviewing the proposed budget, Supt. Johnson commented that the total in dollars are "seemingly high, but they do not represent excessive per-pupil costs when compared with other school districts."

"The total figure is high because we have many children to serve. It is sometimes forgotten that this school district is about the eighth largest in Illinois outside of Chicago."

Tentative departmental appropriations excluding construction are $6,348,380 for education (compared to $6,074,031 in 1964-65), $809,375 for the building fund ($438,420; $651,888 for bonds and interest), $451,765 for transportation ($385,500; $451,765 for the municipal revenue fund $458,190 in 1964-65).

$4,375,008 Tax Levies

Proposed property tax levies total $4,375,008, including $3,196,733 for education, $448,107 for building, $631,888 for bonds and interest, $35,488 for transportation and $101,300 for municipal retirement.

A year ago, $4,263,271 was levied, consisting of $3,058,435 for education, $448,107 for building, $631,888 for bonds and interest, $35,488 for transportation and $101,300 for municipal retirement.

Tax rates determined a year ago for this spring's collection were initially estimated at $2.40 per $100 of assessed valuation, but actually amounted to $2.397 due to assessment gains. This year (next year's) the rate is expected to be $2.401 if assessment rises another 1%, or a smaller rate if there is a more substantial valuation increase.

A breakdown of the $2,401 estimate, including a comparison with the $2,397 rate of a year ago, follows: education, $1.75 (45.5%); building, 25 cents (24.5%); bonds and interest, 26 cents (10.8%); transportation, 19 cents (1.8%); and retirement fund, 5.65 cents (4.8%).

The 17 assessment rate estimate is regarded as conservative. The 24th last year was 2.55%.

Aggregate valuation for 1964 was $186,089,957, up $4,632,012 from 1963. The proposed $474,549 educational fund budget increase provides for:

1. Addition of two consultants, $18,000; new teaching positions, $100,000; and necessary equipment, $100,000.

2. An increase in the contingency fund from $50,000 to $75,000, still only 1.1% of the budget, as compared to the permitted 5%.

3. An increase in the transfer to the transportation fund of $32,522.

4. Survey, Construction

The $71,135 building fund budget increase provides for operational and maintenance projects, including the proposed $100,000 for the new high school, $100,000 for the new elementary school, and $100,000 for the new middle school.

The transportation fund budgeted for 1965-66 is $1,000,000.

LOCAL LINK TO INTERSTATE highway network which now stretches nationwide. Construction men are shown at work this week on the deck of one of two new Chain of Rocks Canal bridges, with Interstate Route 270 traffic visible in the background. Vehicles will be detoured onto existing canal and river spans until new bridges are completed late this year or early next year. (Related pictures on Page 4.)

$1,403,770 Budget for Madison Schools

Includes Pay Raises;
Final Vote to Follow
Public Hearing Aug. 24

The Madison board of education approved a tentative budget totaling $1,403,770, an increase of $174,254 over that of last year, during a meeting Tuesday night.

However, the new budget includes an $82,000 item for the school lunch program which was not reflected in last year's budget, and the net increase can be deducted by that amount.

The new budget, which is available for public inspection at the board of education office, will be for final adoption after a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 24.

The highest increase is in the educational fund, which uses $169,361 from $92,405 to $1,161,966, but this includes the $82,000 lunch item and $80,000 for an athletic program, also not reflected in last year's budget.

The estimated expenditures provide general pay increases and $12,200 for purchase of land adjacent to Dunbar school for a new addition.

Improvements at Dunbar this summer are being carried out by the building fund, which uses $103,056 for the bond and interest fund, up $29; $18,420 for the transportation fund, up $3,067; and $12,600 for the municipal retirement fund, up $1,100.

Estimated cash expenditures in the educational fund include administration, $45,300, up $575; instruction, $854,650, up $30,650; attendance, $68,000, up $100; health, $82,000, up $700; operation, $94,000, up $500; maintenance, $7,000, same; fixed charges, $22,400, down $400; and education, $20,000, same; capital outlay, $7,000.

Austin said he and union officials met Monday at 2 p.m. with a conciliation agent of the U.S. Mediation Service in St. Louis, but the meeting involved only a discussion of background information on the strike issues. Company officials reportedly may meet Friday with conciliators.

A hearing on issuance of a permanent injunction scheduled Wednesday afternoon, was postponed at the request of the union. Company representatives did not object to the continuance, which leaves the temporary injunction in effect.

Under terms of the continuance order, a hearing can be called at the request of either side.

Austin said the union has reduced its wage demand, one of three issues involved in a strike, from an original request for 41 cents an hour to 18 cents an hour.

Addition Planned At Madison High; Buying Dunbar Site

Plans for construction of an addition to Madison high school were announced at a meeting of the board of education Tuesday night.

A rough estimate of the cost for the building itself, not including furnishing and equipment, Wensel Brown, superintendent, said, would be $250,000. A bond issue would be required to finance the project, and called for further study to be given.

The recommendation was for seven classrooms, an addition to the cafeteria, partition in the shop area, a girls' physical education playroom, a new science and language laboratory and extended locker rooms.

Science teachers are to be consulted on science area needs. Brown estimated it would take about a year to complete the project, but recommended that school architect Virgil Dulowicz go no farther with plans for the time being.

To Buy Property

Brown also reported that more space is needed for children at Dunbar school, and the board authorized purchase of three lots adjacent to the school on the corner of West Jackson and Weaver streets from Mr. and Mrs. Marion Officer of the Officer Funeral Home, East St. Louis, the owners.

He also said it would be advisable to start negotiations for later purchase of two other lots for future building needs at the Dunbar school.

Improvements at Dunbar this summer are being carried out by the building fund, which uses $103,056 for the bond and interest fund, up $29; $18,420 for the transportation fund, up $3,067; and $12,600 for the municipal retirement fund, up $1,100.

Aldermen Agree on $1,951,608 GC Budget

$25,895 Increase Set
In Two Meetings This Week; Salary Raises

The Granite City council approved a final 1965-66 budget figure of $1,951,608 Tuesday night, culminating weeks of discussion in determining fiscal departmental expenditures.

The figure, which remains unofficial pending a new compilation of items changed by council action, is $25,895 higher than last year's budget of $1,925,714.

Upon reaching the last review scheduled for the budget, these for the city street department.

Finance Chairman Paul Rutledge presented a motion that the city attorney prepare the budget ordinance for formal adoption in the regular meeting next Monday night. Under state law, the budget must be passed during July.

Comptroller John Doshier said final figures on departmental totals will be determined by his office by procuring a $45,000 salary increase item that was voted by the council in a lump sum, but which is to be spread proportionately among all city departments.

Boost Street Budget

Final action on the budget Tuesday night was apparent by the council of an additional $28,850 for the street department to finance a series of projects recommended by the council's street committee, headed by G. H. Sternberg, of the Seventh Ward.

The addition brought the total budget item for all street department.

Rising Political Clash in Anti- Poverty Talks

With political rivalry in the Madison-Venice area and elsewhere threatening receipt of federal anti-poverty funds in Madison county, a further meeting has been set for 4:30 p.m. Sunday in an effort to obtain agreement on a single program.

Four groups have been formed, including the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, which was endorsed by the Madison County Board of Supervisors as the official organization.

George Moore, chairman of the Madison County Board of Supervisors, told the Press-Record that other agencies also are extending formal recognition.

The meeting Sunday at the Lewis & Clark restaurant between representatives of the county, Quad City and two Alton units was planned Tuesday night during a general discussion by Mayor Stephen Marks of Madison.

Moore told the Press-Record the county commission is making every effort to meet federal requirements for construction of anti-poverty activities within the county. Extensive reorganization has been proposed, and Moore also would resign if it would lead to a solution, he added.

Elder Nicholls Sentenced to 100-150 Years for Murder

Earnest Lloyd Nicholls, 48, was charged with shooting Leggett nine times at the victim's quarters in a farm house at the Illinois penitentiary Wednesday afternoon by Associate Circuit Judge Austin Lewis for the murder of a maintenance man at the Arlington Heights country club last Feb. 4.

The sentencing came after Judge Lewis denied a motion for a new trial. Nicholls was convicted in connection with the fatal shooting of Aaron Leggett, 36, on June 8.

His son, Charles Earnest Nicholls, 21, Granite City, received a term of 75 to 125 years in prison last Thursday from Associate Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman for the same murder.

A third defendant in the case, Paul David Kelley, 19, of Mitchell, is scheduled for trial on Sept. 7. He was found to be competent to stand trial last week by two psychiatrists.

Shot Nine Times
 (Young Nicholls and Kelley)

Before passing sentence, Judge Lewis noted that the elder Nicholls was found guilty by a jury on the evidence presented and that he was the leader in the crime. On asking Nicholls if he wished to say anything in his own behalf, the defendant asked that young Kelley be brought to the courtroom, but Judge Lewis denied this as being improper. He then stated the sentence.

The elder Nicholls had denied having a part in the slaying, and during his trial tried to place the blame on the other two. He may be eligible for parole after 33½ years, one-third of the minimum sentence. His age then would be about 84.

Tax Distribution Wipes Out Deficit

A distribution of $300,000 in city taxes by the office of City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich has eliminated a $64,831 deficit in the city's general fund. A treasurer's report on receipts and disbursements for the April 30-June 30 period showed deficits in 12 of the 17 items of the general fund.

Rich said the settlement made from current tax collections retired the deficits incurred during the first six months of the year and left substantial balances in most funds.

Largest deficit as of June 30 was in the police department fund, amounting to $38,113, with the garbage collection fund next with a deficit of $28,698. The fire department, as of June 30, showed a deficit of $19,884, with the city hall fund in the red $5345.

Among separate city funds, the only one showing a June 30 deficit was the sewer maintenance fund, which had a deficit of $102,319.

Rich said tax collections by his office thus far total $350,766 in personal property and $1,899,894 in real estate taxes, a total of $1,940,700. This is $327,880 less than had been collected by the treasurer's office during the same number of collection days last year, Rich added. Deadline is Aug. 14.

Mayor Rescues Jaycees From Beerless Festival

Through the courtesy of Mayor Donald Partney, Granite City Jaycees will get to operate their beer garden, after all, in connection with their annual homecoming at the Nameoki Village shopping center this weekend.

For a while it appeared the Jaycees might have a beerless festival due to the refusal of a majority of city council members to include a beer sale permit along with permission for conducting the annual homecoming and picnic celebration Monday night.

In fact, council members at most refused the Jaycees permission to have the homecoming at all, although the action apparently was inadvertent. Request for permission to have the homecoming, carnival and parade, along with operation of a beer garden, was submitted by letter at Monday's meeting.

Adviser objected to granting the beer permit, maintaining that responsibility for such action was up to the mayor as liquor commissioner. A motion was put to refuse the request contained in the letter, and council members were about to vote when Alderman Sam Whitmer pointed out that by such a motion the council was rejecting all of the request and therefore refusing the Jaycees the right to have the homecoming.

The motion then was rephrased to allow the homecoming, carnival and parade, without permission for beer sales.

Mayor Partney said he will grant the permit for the three-day operation of the picnic "gaslight" beer garden. The Jaycees already have their state permit, liability insurance and dramshop insurance.

$50,000 Suit Filed Over Venice Auto Accident

A damage suit for $50,000 has been filed for Dolores Keaton against Mary Suggs of Venice and R. F. Davis of St. Louis as the result of an auto accident April 14 on Broadway, Venice.

The complaint alleges that Suggs, a 35-year-old married woman, forced severe and permanent injuries when the Suggs and Davis autos collided while the Suggs auto was making a left turn. She charges negligence on the part of both defendants.

Boat House Vandalism

A window was found broken in a boat house owned by Sid Daugherty of Edwardsville at the Bowline Boat club, Hartford east. It was reported at 6:50 p.m. Tuesday to the county sheriff's office. Daugherty, a foreman at Granite City Steel Co., reported nothing was missing.

8 GC Girl Scouts Tell Experiences at Roundup

"Chow," "guten tag" and "Buenos dias" are only three of the ways eight Granite City girls have been greeted at the 1965 Girl Scout roundup at Farracut, Idaho, now underway.

They are Alto Bollinger, Elizabeth McDonald, Marie Greve, Marilyn Bondegaard, Chris Lewis, Diann Thompson, Lois Kueker and Cathy Zenk.

The girls left for the Roundup by train from St. Louis July 16. At Kansas City they boarded a Roundup special. All the way to Idaho girls and cars were added. When the train pulled into the Roundup station, there were 13 cars and Girl Scouts.

The girls located their tents and equipment that had been sent last month. On July 18, the tent city was completed, with 6000 multi-colored tents.

The girls performed demonstrations that they had prepared for at home to illustrate the legends, industry or history of their communities.

The Roundup is a totally efficient city, with all its own facilities, including a hospital and telephone system, the Press-Record was informed by Miss Bollinger.

Nature Trails
 Six nature trails have been set up for the girls to enjoy. Exhibitions of Idaho culture are going on almost continually.

At Roundup, the Scouts really live their theme of "On the Trail to Tomorrow." It was noted.

The first all-encampment gathering was held July 17 at the arena which was built for that purpose. The arena is an amphitheater enclosed in tall trees. A platform was erected in front for the performers.

The scouts held a songfest that day, with a short dramatization of "Our Heritage."

Mrs. Howard, the sister of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, delivered a message to the scouts from her brother.

45 Nations Represented
 The flags of 45 foreign countries represented at the encampment were displayed, with the scouts in their native Girl Scout uniforms. At the close of the program, the entire arena was surrounded by American flags as a salute to the U.S.

Only twice at the Roundup do the scouts come together in this arena.

It was described as an "unforgettable experience" when 9000 girls come together to learn more about each other and themselves.

Harris Going to State Government Conference

State Rep. Lloyd C. Harris, and Mrs. Harris 3233 Aubrey avenue, will leave shortly for the Northwest, where Rep. Harris will attend a legislative leaders' state government conference to be held in Portland, Ore., Aug. 9 to 14, inclusive.

The veteran Granite City legislator, regarded widely as an authority on state governmental processes, is Appropriations Committee chairman of the Illinois General Assembly.

be easily picked up or opened.

Crime Increasing
"There is nothing present in our metropolitan scene today that indicates crime will diminish. The FBI reports that major crimes continue to increase in number."

"It appears that the habitational risks of today present opportunities equivalent to commercial risks for professional and amateur thieves."

"This being true, it seems only appropriate that more engineering of habitational risks should be done by agents and companies to help control some of the loss history currently being developed in urban areas."

"Failing this, the only other answers lie in increased insurance costs, policy restrictions or limitations needed to bring the loss ratios into balance."

MORE ABOUT School Budget

et increase of $20,600 reflects an increased pupil load, bus contract changes and new legal requirements. State law now stipulates that all payments for transportation be charged directly to this fund, including athletic trips and field trips.

Of the $13,110 added to the retirement fund budget, part was due to payroll increases on which contributions are applicable, and part to a higher contribution rate required from the school district.

Timing of Bond Levy
A $200,113 increase above the actual 1964-65 bond budget is proposed, but only $7110 above the actual 1964 levy. This is because adoption of the last budget precluded the filing of information necessary to establish the bond and interest levy for bonds issued in the fall of 1964.

While construction funds are provided by the bond issue are a part of the overall budget, the only revenues in this category during 1965-66 will be in interest earned, it was explained by Victor G. Anderson, administrative assistant in charge of business.

Anderson commented, "The budget as presented provides these items essential to the continuation of a sound educational program for the district. Many desirable items have not been included, but every effort has been made to screen all requests carefully, to include essential items and to defer those not essential at the present time. This screening provided the only possible means of building a budget that could be supported through a

Four Traffic Arrests

Four traffic arrests, three of them charging the same offense, were made by Venice police Tuesday afternoon and evening. Eugene Williams 807 Jefferson avenue, Jerry C. Guest, 45 Lee Wright Holmes, Venice, and Wedell H. Watson, 18 Brooklyn, were charged with parking on the east side of the 300 block of Weaver street where no parking is permitted during the day-time. David Mitchell, 1024 Douglas street, was arrested for driving without a license.

Interest Received, Not Paid
"The district has operated during the past two fiscal years without issuance of tax anticipation warrants. A total of $24,900 in interest on investments was earned in the educational fund alone during 1964-65, as contrasted to anticipated borrowing of $1,000,000 in 1959-60 with corresponding interest expense instead of income."

"Operations in 1965-66 should again be able to continue without anticipation warrants. Failure of the governor to sign the state aid bill, failure to receive 100% payment on some claims or failure to receive some projected incomes on schedule could, of course, change this picture."

"Our school population is constantly increasing. Actual receipts of income from both taxes and claims is always about a year behind the budget year for which such taxes are levied or for which such claims are filed."

"While we definitely should be attempting to maintain tax rates at the current level for 1965-66, this makes anticipation warrant borrowing in both the educational and bonded funds a probability for 1966-67."

Dangerous Caves Being Dug at School Project

Construction of Parkway grade school on an extension of Maryville road south of Cambridge ridge is proceeding on or ahead of schedule, but an unexpected problem is being encountered, Supt. Russell D. Johnson reported to the Granite City school board last night.

Youngsters have been digging caves in the excavated area, creating not only extra work for the contractor but serious hazards for themselves in the event of a collapse of the dirt, it was pointed out.

Work of pouring footings and foundations for the new school is in progress.

4000 Attend National Hairdressers Convention

More than 4000 members of the National Hairdressers' and Cosmetologists Association will end a five-day national convention at the Hotel Chase, St. Louis, with installation of new national officers tonight.

About 40 Quad-City beauticians and salon owners have attended various seminars, it was reported by Mrs. Mary Batson, president of the Elite Hairdressers' Association, Affiliate 33.

Highlights of the convention included "Parade of States." Tuesday evening, when each state was represented by a lavish costume selected at state conventions, Illinois was represented by the award-winning costume entered by the local association, which won top honors in Chicago last September.

The costume, illuminated with 200 light globes, was designed by Earl Parsons and constructed by local affiliate members and their husbands. Mary Ann Andre, a local beautician, whose hair was styled by Earl Tucker for the occasion, wore the unusual costume.

Portable Rooms Purchased for Stallings School

Two mobile classrooms were purchased by the Granite City school board last night for the Stallings grade school playground this fall. Expected arrival date is Nov. 1, and in the meantime the site and utility connections will be prepared.

Ways of handling the excess Stallings enrollment during the first two months of the fall term are still being studied.

The mobile units, costing $11,000 each, are to be ordered from the Barker-Wayne Co., Chicago. Cost figures obtained were $7000 and $14,500, the lesser amount being for a room that would be only 12 feet wide.

Possibility of obtaining used mobile rooms from Perryville, Mo., school had been explored, but they may not be available.

Contracts Signed

The board last night approved signing of contracts for construction of a cafeteria and new classrooms at Granite City high school. Figures listed were $73,123. Cannon Construction Co., general work; $30,928. Triangle Heating & Air Conditioning Co., plumbing; $74,344. Tri-City Heating & Air Conditioning Co., heating; and $56,101. Rite Electric Co., electrical work.

Authority also was given for signing of a cafeteria equipment contract, with negotiations to continue for a short time on the extent of specification changes.

The pending decision includes whether to utilize new or existing dishwashing and refrigeration equipment.

Work on the GCIS addition is to begin Aug. 2, with completion slated for August 1966.

A change order was approved for new Parkway grade school, reducing the plumbing contract with the Reiser Co. by $4076.

The school system has entered into a contract calling for the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. to install a water line to the school, a project originally required to be performed by the contractor.

The ten-year contract represents an initial cost of $3176, but there will be reimbursements of $750 to $1000 for future payments.

Football Field Building to be a plan to construct a 420x200-foot building on the high school football stadium to house restrooms, ticket booths and a concession stand. No final decision has been reached pending further investigation, but $15,000 is being budgeted.

The football field at GCIS has been covered with weeds and likely to be a sea of mud unless added, the board was told. It was decided to proceed with bluestone sodding at an estimated cost of $800.

Supt. Johnson said work is progressing satisfactorily on installation of a new GCIS gymnasium floor.

Purchase of surplus federal equipment through the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department is to be explored, and possible reduction of school rental fees will be studied. The board reduced a $140 bill to the Jaycees for two nights use of GCIS facilities in connection with the Miss Granite City contest.

It was decided to order renewable air filters for Mitchell grade school unit ventilators at a cost of $347, and to purchase a belt sander for grading of school desks.

Report to Taxpayers
Prices are being obtained on publication of the first of a proposed series of "annual reports to stockholders," providing the public and potential school employees with information on the school district.

By a 3-1 vote, the board ordered football, basketball and wrestling schedule posters from Tri-City Printing Co. on its bid of $39.50 for each of the three categories. Low bids were $38.30 from Wood River Printing Co.; Dr. E. W. Walton, Robert Crider and George Moore favored buying locally when bids are that close with President Monroe Warthen opposed. Absent were Ronald Dillard, Daniel Linder and Royce Timmons.

Low bid awards went to Advertiser Press, schedule cards, community programs May Day programs, cafeteria canned goods, ten firms on bids ranging from $55 to $3334, totaling $13,112; vendor bids for Steddinghaus school addition, $501, Ken-Mar Co.; replacement of new GCIS desks and a school, $2324 total, Elmer D. Neumann, milk, Aro-Dressel Foods Co. Corp. at specified amounts.

Blacktop at 3 Schools
Holland Asphalt was authorized to install 2000 square yards of blacktop at Wilson school, 1200 square yards at Niedringhaus and 2400 square yards at Mitchell for a total of $7750. The school district will provide grading and a rock base.

For the second straight year at the same unit cost, McDonnell Automation Center will handle grade reporting at the high school.

Bills paid totaled $19,254 in the educational fund, $13,383 in the building fund, $534 tuition reimbursement and $3176 new construction.

GC Seeks More MFT For Missouri Avenue

Granite City will make an effort to secure more motor fuel tax funds for maintenance of Missouri avenue, although some council members say the state is certain to turn down such a request until the street is widened.

The condition of disrepair of Missouri avenue was brought up again in a regular council session Monday night by Alderman R. E. Robertson of the Seventh Ward, who pointed out that only $1300 is currently allotted for maintenance of the street.

Walter Noon, Fifth Ward, took up the discussion, maintaining that Missouri avenue "is on top of the list" of streets needing repair, and said he would go along with Robertson in an effort to secure more money from motor fuel tax funds to be used on Missouri avenue. Route three Finance chairman Paul Rutledge pointed out, however, that several years ago the state wanted to improve Missouri avenue but the project was contingent upon widening the street. Rutledge recalled that residents, who tested over the widening and the improvement project was killed.

Wardens Necessary
Rutledge said that while an effort can be made to obtain more funds, he is certain the state will not take such action until the street is improved, including widening.

The council Monday night also received a recommendation from its newly-formed Citizens Traffic Commission for establishment of six 20-mile-per-hour signs to be set up in the vicinity of Lakes McKimley, Nameski, Sacred Heart, Niedringhaus and St. Elizabeth schools.

Aldermen instructed the city attorney to prepare legislation for erecting of the signs.

September Railroad Hearing
On the motion of Alderman Charles Morrien, council members authorized City Attorney Richard Allen to file objections with the Illinois Commerce Commission in cases in which the city, Mobile & Ohio and New York Central Railroads are questioning ICC permission to discontinue their agencies in Granite City and establish "pre-pay" stations.

"Notices that such petitions have been filed were sent to the council by the ICC, which said hearings have been set in September."

The council voted to permit the Tri-Cities United Fund to post cardboard signs on utility poles and to erect a downtown street banner in connection with the United Fund drive this fall.

Wants Traffic Control
Alderman Robertson also urged erection of signs or other traffic controls on Fehling road at the entrance to Wilson Park, where he said there is considerable danger to children crossing the street. The matter was referred to the street department.

G. H. Sternberg, Seventh Ward, chairman of the street committee, presented to the council a set of bids received for sidewalk construction during the year. The bids on construction of four-inch and six-inch sidewalks were as follows: General Contracting Co., 67.5 cents per square foot for four-inch walk and 77 cents for six-inch; A. H. Beekel, 64 and 83 cents; and Tom Skerle 64 and 73 cents.

Sternberg also received permission from the council to work with the city attorney in preparing legislation that will prohibit use of their pipe in sanitary sewer sewer connections from residences to lower lines. Sternberg said difficulties are being encountered in cases where such lines have been used.

1955 Reunion Planned, Former Students Sought

A reunion is being planned for the Granite City high school June class of 1955, and those in charge are having difficulty locating many of the members, especially the girls who have married.

The reunion is planned for Sept. 18 in the 300 room of the Tri-Mor Bowl for about 300 members of the class.

Those who have not been contacted were requested to phone Mrs. Jeanette Rains, 1412 Madison avenue, TR 7-2835, or Mrs. JoAnn Maclos, 7-2836 Cambridge drive, TR 6-6630.

Curfew Brings Six Days

David Hastings, 18, of 4708 Kirkpatrick Homes was sentenced to six days of city work Wednesday by Magistrate Hicott on a curfew charge. Another charge of attempted burglary was dropped.

The charges were filed by Venice police June 18 and 22.

Madison Auto Accident Leads to $75,000 Suit

A $75,000 damage suit has been filed by Harry Odum of Collinsville against Charles Elmer Simpson as the result of an auto accident last Feb. 28 while both were driving south in the 400 block of Madison avenue, Madison.

The complaint charges Simpson with negligence for hitting the rear of the other car, and Odum alleges severe and permanent injuries.

$5000 Drapshop Sued

A $5000 drapshop suit was filed by Bobby Wallace against Paul Summers, doing business as Chub Delmar, 1832 Delmar avenue, in Madison county circuit court this week.

The complaint alleges that Wallace was attacked, beaten and injured while in the tavern June 19 by Guy Wallace, who had become intoxicated while in the establishment.

Venice Receives Bids On Street Materials

Bids received by the clerk's office at Venice Monday for furnishing street materials will be presented to the next meeting of the city council for approval or rejection Aug. 6.

Only one bid was received for furnishing liquid asphalt, from Midwest Blacktop Roads, East St. Louis. It also submitted the only bid on rock. The company bid 17.5 cents per gallon on furnishing and applying 21,168 gallons, a total bid of $4021. For furnishing 882 tons of rock, the bid was $244 per ton, or $4788.

Bitumix, East St. Louis, was the sole bidder for furnishing 50 tons of bituminous patch material, at $3.50 a ton, a total of $225.

Three bids were received for furnishing 125 tons of salt. International Salt Co., St. Louis, bid $12 a ton, or $1500; Gumbert Salt Co., St. Louis, $10.13 or $1268; and Cargill, Inc., St. Louis, $13.40 or a $1675 total.

Foundation Encouraging Research at University

The Southern Illinois University Foundation Research and New Projects Committee is urging university personnel and area citizens to take advantage of opportunities offered by the foundation.

The committee met Tuesday at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. A non-profit corporation chartered by the state and authorized by the SIU Board of Trustees to receive gifts for the university's benefit, the foundation also encourages research work and projects submitted by faculty, staff and students of the university as well as non-university persons.

The five-year-old Research and New Projects Committee reviews and evaluates these projects. Kenneth R. Miller, executive director of the foundation, pointed out in an interview that until recently the program was available only to SIU-SIUWU faculty and staff.

"The committee," he said, "has been expanded to include local colleges, Miller said, 'that local colleges and area citizens will also become acquainted with the resources of the committee in securing patents and copyrights for their projects.'"

Royalties Arriving
Four of 26 projects in the mill, Miller said, are producing royalties. These projects range from highly specialized ones to simple ones which have formed "technical gadgets." The most successful to date is a disposable animal cage which has produced several thousand dollars in royalties from the more than two million produced by a Chicago manufacturing firm.

"Projects which the committee and the university feel they cannot handle are assigned to the Research Corporation in New York City, with whom the foundation has a standing contract."

The 15-man committee, which voted to alternate its quarterly meetings between the Quad Cities-Edwardsville and Carbondale campuses, includes two university attorneys and a patent lawyer who help with legal matters.

Non-university area members of the committee include Blain Helibush, vice-president for marketing at Alton Box Board, Grover Land of Belleville and Donald Leavitt of St. Louis.

Among other committee members are Donald R. James and Warren Stoddy of the local campus.

Swimmers to Vie in Relays

The Paddlers swimming club will participate in Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association Conference races this weekend at the Belleville Sundowners club after a week of activity. Tuesday's dual meet with the Sundowners was canceled due to inclement weather.

Diving events will begin at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Coach Keith Parker said that Kelly Hogan, Mark Dufner and Jimmy Moran are expected to be tough to beat in the 15-17 boys group, as well as Sue Lybarger, Janet Corbin and Jane Parker in 11-12 girls competition.

Swimming will start at 9 a.m. Saturday, with about 30 events slated to take place. Parker said Paddlers and Summersport of Alton probably rank as co-favorites in the meet.

The local team has won 30 dual meets in four and a half seasons of competition, losing only to the Summersport squad, which will be here again Thursday, July 25. The two teams have not met yet this season.

Well-Stocked Medicine
Cabinet Recommended

Emergencies happen in every household. An aid to family well-being is a wisely stocked cabinet or container of emergency supplies.

Every family should have on hand a small supply of items for use in an emergency.

Are the following dozen suggested emergency supplies available at your house?

1. A tube of lubricant or petroleum for a rectal thermometer.
2. A small roll of 12-inch or 1-inch adhesive tape.
3. A small package of absorbent cotton or cotton balls.
4. Sterile adhesive dressings in assorted sizes and shapes.
5. Several packets of sterile gauze dressings two to four inches square.
6. Gauze bandages 12-inch to two inches wide.
7. A small pair of sharp scissors.
8. A pair of tweezers.
9. A clinical thermometer.
10. Safety pins.
11. Tongue blades and wooden applicator sticks.
12. Burn ointment and an antiseptic recommended by the doctor.

Headache Remedy
Your physician probably will have other suggestions for your family's specific needs. His recommendations might include a laxative for occasional use, a lotion for treatment of poison ivy and insect bite, and a headache remedy.

Guard your "emergency station" against becoming a hoarding of old prescription medicines, household cleaners, beauty preparations, etc.

A cluttered cabinet interferes with necessary speed in an emergency.

Keep Locked
Emergency supplies, as well as all medicines, should be kept in a locked bathroom cabinet or in a container that cannot be reached by children.

A locked closet or drawer, with the key also out of ready reach, insures reasonable safety.

While a plastic or metal box can be used for emergency supplies, a covered cardboard box serves the purpose, too. The only requirement is that the container be large enough to hold necessary items in positions for rapid location and handling.

Learn What to Do

While ample supplies will help to prepare you for emergencies, even more important is knowing what action to take when sudden injury or illness strikes.

If you have not had suitable instruction, check with the Red Cross chapter to find out when first-aid courses are scheduled and enroll in a class.

Each course has a companion textbook that should be in every home library. These books are available at cost.

GCHS June 1960 Class

Busy Summer in Store For New Miss Illinois

Everyone expects Miss America candidates to be attractive, with shapely figures and a gorgeous smile. Few realize that behind the beautiful exterior also lies intelligence, charm, graciousness, better-than-average education and usually years of intense dedication to a particular talent.

All these qualities are necessary to reach that point in mid-September when the eyes of the nation are turned toward 50 young women in Atlantic City, N. J., and the pride of each state is at stake.

Some candidates may be there as the result of years of careful planning.

Persuaded by Friends
Others, as with Granite City's Miss Illinois, may arrive at the national beauty-talent contest through the initial persuasion of a few friends to enter a local pageant, plus her own exceptional talent and natural beauty.

Miss Kathy Oros, who was crowned Miss Illinois last week-end in Quincy, has all the attributes demanded for the past two decades in a Miss America candidate.

A five-foot, seven inches, tall brunette, with deep brown eyes and a magnificent smile, Miss Oros has the poise and dignity of a true queen, which she displayed when welcomed home this week.

Admittedly tired following a hectic week-end schedule of activities and the preliminary contests leading up to her selection, the new Miss Illinois arrived home in Granite City to a horde of questions from friends, newsmen and admirers, plus interviews, pictures and requests for personal appearances.

She greeted everyone with a gracious and cooperative attitude and eloquently expressed her appreciation to her fellow citizens as she accepted the key to the city from Mayor Donald L. Parney.

Touched by Response
Miss Oros told a Press-Record reporter, "I am very touched by the warmth extended to me by everyone." She added, "I am very happy and proud to represent Granite City and will continue to do my best while representing my community and my state in the Miss America pageant."

She went on to say, "I feel most lucky to have the wonderful Granite City Jaycees behind me; all have been ready to help me at anytime with numerous details."

She commented favorably on the efficiently-handled pageants, both in Quincy and the local contest June 19, when she captured the Miss Granite City crown over six other candidates. There were 31 contestants at Quincy.

Hopes to be Actress
Dedicated to her aspiration of becoming a top-flight actress, Miss Oros already has scheduled rehearsals to keep her singing in dramatic talents in high form.

During the interim period before the Miss America pageant, she will grow herself for her nationwide appearance and plans to spend many hours shopping for "just the right wardrobe for such an important occasion."

Already requests for personal

PERT AND PRETTY and already possessing a captivating smile, Miss Illinois at the tender age of three shows every indication of becoming a beauty.

appearances are pouring in and the telephone in the Oros home at 2841 Washington avenue is steadily ringing with congratulatory messages, invitations and offers of assistance.

Gifts Visits
While she was being interviewed Tuesday, a call came from Miss Ann Smith, one of Miss Oros' instructors at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, who offered her help.

Meanwhile, at the front door, a neighbor, Mrs. Emma Steiner, 2851 Washington avenue, brought the new beauty queen a bouquet of fresh-cut garden flowers.

Arrangements involving the new Miss Illinois pageant in September will be handled by a personal manager appointed by the Illinois Jaycees organization at a state board meeting this week-end.

In most instances, a member of the local Jaycees is selected for this pleasant task.

Up to this point, Robert Schofield, who served as general chairman for the Miss Granite City pageant, has been acting in this capacity, with Earl Dotzauer as public relations representative.

Last night, Miss Illinois and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oros, were honored at a monthly dinner meeting of the Granite City Jaycees held at the Luna Cafe, Mitchell.

Miss Schedule Developing
Her immediate itinerary is as follows:

At 1 p.m. Saturday, Miss Oros will lead a motorcycle through the downtown Granite City area and be honored in a short ceremony slated for 1:30 p.m. on the steps of the city hall.

She will then join a 38-unit parade at 24th street and Madison avenue in observance of the third annual Granite City Jaycees homecoming celebration. The parade will proceed up Madison avenue and Nameoki road to the Nameoki Village shopping center.

Later the same afternoon, Miss Oros is scheduled to leave by plane for Urbana, where she will be honored at a state board meeting of the Illinois Jaycees.

She will return home Sunday for an appearance at 9:30 p.m. at the homecoming celebration when she will repeat her award-winning talent presentation, "Just You Wait, Henry Higgins," taken from "My Fair Lady."

Other events scheduled include appearances in Chicago on Aug. 6 and in Aurora the following day.

Key to City
During the ceremony, Mayor Donald L. Parney presented Miss Oros with the first key to the city given since he began his tenure as mayor, and Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce President Carl Mathias proclaimed her an honorary C. of C. ambassador.

Other civic leaders who offered their congratulations, included Monroe Worthen, school board president; Richard Fry, Sixth Ward alderman, who represented the city council; James Burton, Jaycees president; and Schofield. Also present were Assistant Fire Chief Curtis Donley and Police Chief Raymond J. Willard.

Superintendent Russell D. Johnson commended Miss Oros for her scholastic achievements. While a student at Granite City high school, the new Miss Illinois was a member of the National Honor Society, the Girls Athletic Association, Red Pipers, Masque and Gavel and student council.

She served as vice-president of her junior class and was elected "most mannered girl" in her senior year.

School Acting Roles
An active participant for three years in Miss Mary Blackburn's extensive speech program, Miss Oros had the lead role of Sabina in "Skin of Your Teeth" and appeared in the homecoming play, "Charlie's Aunt," "Pygmalion" and "Death Takes a Holiday."

Miss Blackburn attended the Quincy pageant, driving there alone both Friday and Saturday

A ROYAL BEAUTY. Wearing a regal, red velvet robe trimmed with white ermine and her sparkling crown of office, Miss Illinois flashes an enchanting smile and happily accepts a bouquet of American Beauty roses and her greatly prized trophy after her victory at Quincy.

to offer support and encouragement to her protégée. At Sunday's ceremony, the former school teacher with many years of experience here said, "I believe Kathy's performance last night was as perfect as it could be and I am extremely proud of her."

Miss Oros, who will begin her junior year this fall at Eastern Illinois University, is majoring in speech. In May, she appeared in the starring role of Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady," the university's annual spring production.

For her award-winning talent presentation, Miss Illinois gave a rendition of Eliza singing, "Just You Wait, Henry Higgins."

Busy College Student
Although dramatics efforts to remedy her natural talents and the usual workload of a college student take up most of her time at Eastern, Miss Oros still takes the opportunity to serve as vice-president of the Sigma chapter of the Pi Kappa Delta honorary speech fraternity.

Her talent inclination, she says, leans toward musical comedy. However, she quickly rules out confining herself to that specific field.

She also is interested in commercial radio work and her well-modulated voice appears aptly suited for that profession.

Taking Leave of Absence
With the full acquiescence of Grano Steel Products, where she has been employed in a summer secretarial position, tomorrow Miss Illinois will begin a leave of absence from the firm.

Grano officials have assured her that her job will be open when she chooses to return.

Words commending Miss Oros for the distinction and honor she has brought to the community appear to be well-spoken and appropriate. Earlier this week, representatives of the Chicago Daily News arrived here for a complete picture layout of the new queen to be published in Saturday's issue and distributed nationwide.

The principal picture in the collection was taken in front of Blast Furnace Division plant, with the lovely Miss Illinois attired in a hat and bracelet, symbolizing the firm and the community as a whole.

Constant Phone Calls
Miss Illinois' father, Paul J. Oros, is a boiler-maker-welder by trade and a member of Bolander's Local 263 of East St. Louis. Currently, he is managing to avoid the constant ringing of the telephone, at least during daytime hours, by working for a contractor on a Union Electric Co. construction project at Portage Des Sioux.

Mrs. Irene Oros, who is blessed with the same charming manner as her daughter, is a cashier at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she has been employed for the past five years.

Other members of the immediate family are a brother, Gerald, 27, and a sister, 12-year-old Renee, who quickly tells you her name is pronounced "Reeny."

She attends Sacred Heart school, as did her sister, Kathy.

Children's Recital
Miss Oros was born in Alton and with her family moved to Granite City when she was three. From as far back as front and center, she dreamed of one day being in show business, and while quite young made her public debut in several children's recitals.

Prior to the Miss Granite City pageant, Miss Oros was approached by Mrs. Morris Helman of Helman's Style Shop and asked to enter the contest under their sponsorship. But it took the combined persuasion of Darrell Crews, Jaycees entertainment chairman, and his wife, Phyllis, a former Miss Granite City contestant, to get her to agree to the venture.

During the hectic days of last week, Miss Oros said she was assisted by numerous individuals

Automotive Surge Aids A. O. Smith Corp. Sales

A flourishing market for automobiles and trucks plus expanded activities among line pipe customers helped the A. O. Smith Corp. set all-time sales records for the second quarter and for the first six months of 1965. It was announced today.

Sales climbed to $192,161,000 for the second quarter, compared with $79,816,000 for the same 1964 period. Six-month sales totaled $385,033,000 against $153,190,000 in 1964.

Police reported that Conner struck a parked auto as he was driving north on Madison avenue. New Booklets on Mental Health Now Available

A booklet, "Mental Health — The Responsibility of the Community," describing briefly the services available for the mentally ill and retarded in Illinois has been published by the Illinois Mental Health Commission.
It maps the eight zones into which Illinois has been divided for mental health care. It also lists by zones the state hospitals, state schools for retarded, state adult community mental health clinics and state-aided day centers for the mentally retarded, with telephone numbers of the institutions.
Madison county is in the East St. Louis zone, with Alton State Hospital as the principal facility.
The commission, headed by Lt. Gov. Stephen H. Shapiro, is inviting the public to join in the movement to "return mental health services to the community." The Illinois answer to the problem of mental illness, the booklet states, "is a program of prevention and treatment as close to home as possible."

It was compiled and edited by writing to Kenneth H. Otten, Executive Secretary, Illinois Mental Health Commission, 325 Statehouse, Springfield, Ill.

Autos driven by David J. Schmidt, 1001 Greenwood street, Madison, and Veronica Salvo, 1742 Fourth street, Madison, collided at Washington avenue and Fourth street, Madison, at 5 p.m. Wednesday.
Police reported that Schmidt's car struck Salvo's car, causing damage to both vehicles. Schmidt was not injured. Salvo was taken to a local hospital for observation. Police are investigating the cause of the collision.

Venice Twp. Loses One Precinct; Six Boundary Changes

The Madison county board of supervisors reduced by one the number of Venice township precincts and changed boundaries of the precincts during a meeting Wednesday morning at Edwardsville.
The number dropped from 12 to 11 precincts, and boundaries were changed in Precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11. The action was taken because of changes in Nos. 4, 5, 6, 8, 9 and 10. The action was taken because of changes in Nos. 4, 5, 6, 8, 9 and 10. The action was taken because of changes in Nos. 4, 5, 6, 8, 9 and 10.

Precinct 1 will be that area of Venice west of Fourth and south of Bissell street, and will include Lee Wright Homes. Precinct 2 will be that area east of Bissell street and south of the railroad. Precinct 3 includes the Eagle Acres area. Precinct 7 will be bounded by Madison, south corporate line of Madison, McCambridge, and Edwards roads, and Sixth and Irving streets. Precinct 10 will be bounded by McCambridge, Atlantic avenue, Washington avenue and Sixth street. Precinct 11 will be bounded by Mercedia, College and Weaver streets.

Precinct adjustments also were made in Alton and Edwardsville townships.

Legislation Reports
Harry Briggs, chairman of the legislation committee, noted that the state legislature passed a Madison county revenue bill permitting Madison county to raise its general fund tax rate from 5.66 cents per $100 valuation by two cents next year and one cent the following year. He said it is awaiting the signature of Gov. Keener.

There are few high county rulings at present that indicate how far an elected board can delete its legislative functions from other parties or procedures, but the code basically vests such authority in the board only.

Board members made a point of saying they felt the delegation of powers to the board was acting properly in upholding the union viewpoint. However, they added that in their ruling on all aspects, they could not let the circuit court decision go unchallenged.

Re-Hearing Sought on Teacher Court Ruling

The Granite City school board voted last night to seek a rehearing on a new circuit court ruling relating to a junior high school teacher who was not placed on tenure two years ago.
The ruling by Associate Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman, announced this week, was that arbitration had been wrongfully denied by the school district.
Supt. Russell D. Johnson and Board President Monroe Worthen, who met Tuesday night with three representatives of the Granite City local of the American Federation of Teachers, voiced respect for the viewpoint and reasoning of the delegation, but said final determination of the issue could aid both the district and faculty members.
Supt. Johnson said the principle involved is whether hiring or discharge of personnel is to be made a matter of arbitration or whether it is to remain an administrative and board function.

He conceded that initial steps in the arbitration process followed, but noted that proceeding on into arbitration would be a supplemental step to those given in the Illinois school code.

It was agreed in last night's discussion that the present wording of the local's agreement does not exclude arbitration over the discharge of a teacher, but also does not require it. General arbitration procedures are outlined in the agreement, wording of which was drafted jointly by a school board committee and an AFT committee.

Last night's review brought out that while the arbitration proposal would be advisory in nature, failure to appeal the ruling would have sweeping results, including possibly compulsory arbitration.

Groundbreaking For New Calvary Baptist Church

A groundbreaking ceremony for a new Calvary Baptist Church will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, it was announced today by Rev. Wilbert V. Snider, pastor. Proceeding the event, a social dinner will follow the morning worship services. The church is located at 3000 Washington avenue.
The new sanctuary will be 52x90 feet in size, with a 20x50-foot unit connecting to the present building.
The Plans and Survey Committee consists of Newman Stafford, chairman, and Earl Phelps, Ernest Korn, Marcellus Bradford, M. K. Cornett, Bob Myers and Doyle Jones, who was replaced by Don Miller when he moved to St. Louis.

Twenty-five years ago, the congregation still worshipped in a small white frame building where its present church stands. The existing building was erected in 1941 and housed the congregation until 1952, when an educational building was added.

In 1963, the church voted to moderate the lower part of the 1941 building, including new gas furnaces, and this was done at a cost of $12,500.

Planning for a new sanctuary has been underway for the past several years. Carl Ely & Associates of St. Louis designed the sanctuary and Bill Conn was selected as the contractor.

Of saying they felt the delegation of powers to the board was acting properly in upholding the union viewpoint. However, they added that in their ruling on all aspects, they could not let the circuit court decision go unchallenged.

Officers of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council were re-elected last night in a monthly meeting at the Labor Temple. Edwin F. Reiske was named to his 12th one-year term as president of the council. All were holdover officers and had been renominated without opposition.
Other officers re-elected were: Lenzie Crockerell, vice president; Mrs. Hilda Buzan, recording secretary; Fred Piehanc, financial secretary; Theodore Moran, treasurer; and Albert Wilson, guard. Donald Parnell was named guide, and Roy Logan and Gene McGovern trustees.
Installation will take place Aug. 4.

Representatives of Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Local 7-633 outlined in detail the issues involved in the current strike at Union Star and Refining Co. and the council voted an endorsement of the strike. Thirty-one locals were represented by delegates at the session.

The delegates also approved a resolution against area discrimination in employment. It will be presented to the state labor convention in October.

Tax Methods Explained To Madison Rotarians

Madison Rotarians yesterday heard an explanation of local and state tax procedures by Will Radman, program chairman, and Mayor Stephen Mearns. Both are members of the club. Each questioned the fairness of personal property taxes but stressed the importance of full payment of these and other taxes while they are in effect.

Birthdays of Rev. Harry Calver and William F. Winter were noted. Next Wednesday there will be no noon meeting; the members instead attending a supper outing given by President Anthony Zedek and Harry Lake host at the latter's Dunlap Lake home.

9 Appointed to City-Park-School Steering Group

Nine local public officials have been chosen to serve on a steering group to plan some form of liaison apparatus or information exchange between the Granite City municipal, school and park governmental agencies.

Last three of the delegates chosen were confirmed at last night's school board meeting. Those named to represent the district were Board President L. Monroe Worthen, Board Secretary, Dr. E. W. Watson and School Supt. Russell D. Johnson.

Mayor Donald Partney, Eighth Ward Alderman Ford Johnson and Corporation Counsel Leo Konzen will represent the city of Granite City.

Park district representatives will be President Barry Loman, Vice-President W. Milton Worthen and Commissioner William Kroyak.

The full governing boards met initially on July 14, with Monroe Worthen serving as temporary chairman of the gathering of 24 Supt. Johnson, who originated the proposal for coordinated efforts, pointed out that virtually the same taxpayers citizens support all three agencies and could possibly benefit from exchange of ideas and information between them.

The steering committee will study what form the relationship should take. Decisions of the joint group will have no official or legal standing, except as ratified by the elected bodies.

One of the first steps expected to be discussed is a Granite City museum project.

20th Annual Gladiolus Society Show Sunday

Plans have been completed for the 20th annual gladiolus show of the Southwestern chapter of the Illinois Gladiolus Society at the courthouse in Edwardsville Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited.

Show manager is Richard Goewert, assisted by Homer Martz, Supervisor of judges is C. W. Owens, assisted by C. E. Ends, Henry Huser is in charge of registration. Mrs. Virginia Kneib is chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. J. Hoffman and Mrs. Goewert. Miss Jennie Sloan is publicity chairman.

The courthouse will be open at 7 a.m. Sunday for exhibitors to enter and set up their flowers. All exhibits must be in place by 11 a.m., except baskets and arrangements, and these must be in place by noon.

The show will have an amateur section, novice section, open section and a section for arrangements. No membership in the Illinois Gladiolus Society is required for entries in the novice and arrangement sections. For rules of exhibitions, a show schedule may be obtained from Homer Martz, 812 Madison avenue, Edwardsville, phone 636-2801.

In the Open Division, there will be a single spike, a recent introduction, 3-spike, 5-spike vase, baskets, single seedlings, 3-spike seedlings, an all-American table and a table for chapter members only.

In the arrangement section, gladiolus must predominate but other flowers, foliage and accessories may be used. Flowers do not have to be grown by the exhibitor. Arrangements are to be shown on tables with no backdrops.

Exhibitors may enter as many classes as desired, limited to one entry in each class. No artificial flowers, dried, sprayed or dyed materials are to be used. Theme of the Arrangements will be "Living with Gladioli."

Correct Ways of Home Food Processing Urged

"I'll take no chances with the food I preserve." Let this be your slogan for success in food preservation whether you can or freeze fruits and vegetables. Quad-City Homemakers are being advised.

Spending in home-preserved foods is costly although some of the fresh produce may come from one's own garden. It also is costly in terms of time, energy and supplies.

One way to insure success is to follow recommended preservation procedures. To refresh one's memory on these, a home study course from the Pennsylvania State University is an excellent guide. Correct methods for processing foods in the pressure canner and in the boiling water bath are described. Specific directions are given for freezing fresh fruits and vegetables. One section of the course has instructions for making jellies, jams, pickles and relishes.

Picnic Concludes Story Hour Series in Venice

ment purposes to $310,146, not including the pro-rated share of the $45,000 salary allotment.

Last year's street department budget was $381,137, while actual expenditures during the 1964-65 fiscal year amounted to $323,519.

Plan Traffic Department
Other last-minute action included approval of a suggestion by Sternberg that the city create a traffic department for future operation by the new traffic control commission and traffic control engineer.

Alderman Charles Moerlein also suggested that a traffic count be made. As a result, Mayor Donald Farney said he believed the use of high school youngsters at $1.50 an hour would produce as good a survey as a regular engineering firm at far less cost.

A sum of $13,000 was appropriate for the new traffic department, to be lumped with the parking meter budget which already stood at $24,020. This made the parking meter and traffic department total $37,020.

More Police Radio Room
Another $5000 was added to the city hall budget Tuesday night to permit changing the police radio room to the present police lounge room quarters.

The sum for expenses of the mayor's office was raised from $1500 to $3000 on the suggestion of Rutledge, who said he had made a mistake in suggesting the $1500 figure because he did not know the expenses ran as high as they are shown in the records.

Sternberg made a two-page report on 11 projects which aldermen had asked him to investigate and include in the budget.

Approve 8 Street Projects
Sternberg recommended seven of these be approved and four rejected, but one of the recommendations for rejection was overruled by the council; eight of the projects were approved. In addition, a $10,000 contingency

The new budget included $318,289 for the police department, compared to a budget last year of $284,005 and actual expenses during the past year of $285,887.

Add Three Firemen
The fire department budget, which includes the filling of one vacancy and employment of three additional firemen, was fixed at $345,735. Last year, the fire department budget was $311,030, and actual expenses for the year were $320,593.

The fire department budget however, includes an item of $60,000 for a Narnoki fire station which may not be used this year.

For garbage collection, the budget sets the sum of $181,005, compared to a $162,163 budget last year. Actual expenses for this purpose during the year just ended totaled $164,124.

The budget for arterial street improvement and maintenance second figure: tax collections, was fixed at $88,944. Last year, the budget was $88,104 and expenses amounted to $85,063.

Total budget figure for the administrative division amounts to $176,793; finance and accounting, $17,779; treasurer's office, $5500; legal, $23,890; city clerk, $5520; telephone operators' salary, $3112; and magistrate's office, $120. The total administrative budget last year was $35,637 and the amount actually spent was $88,239.

Contingency Budget
The contingency fund budget was fixed at $20,000, an increase of $5000 over last year's budget. Expenses in this fund last year were $23,061.

Police and firemen's pensions were budgeted at $45,000 each, compared to $35,000 each last year, and sewer maintenance was budgeted at $80,000 compared to $180,000 last year. Actual sewer maintenance costs during last year were $18,078.

Other budget items, which last year's comparison shown in the second figure: tax collections, were $23,061.

$22,427 ($20,562); civil defense, $10,000 (same); inspection, $26,700 ($26,700); planning, $20,000 ($20,000); pumping station, $60,000 ($1000); judgments, $14,000 ($1000); elections, $4900 ($4500); municipal retirement, $24,000 ($24,000); street lighting, $20,000 ($20,000); fire hydrants, $20,000 (same); and public library, $102,495 ($98,035).

None of the items listed include any part of the $45,000 salary increase for the city clerk.

Preparation of the budget had been a prolonged project delayed from one meeting to another for various reasons in recent weeks.

Final work on the budget moved speedily Tuesday night, however, when it became apparent that Mayor Farney would continue to call special meetings until the budget was drafted. The work was completed Tuesday shortly after 10 p.m.

Wage Hikes Debated
Monday night's meeting, in which Mayor Farney hoped to accomplish much of the budget work, developed into several hours of bickering and repetitious argument over proposed increases for city employees. Several times the multitude of motions and amendments caused the mayor to warn the council that the budget had to be passed this month and that "if I'm going to be here every night from now on, I am going to see that you are here, too."

At one point, the issue became so confused that Fourth Ward Alderman Paul Rutledge, chairman of the finance committee, left the report on adjustment with the remark that "we can't get anything done here tonight."

Major conflict on the salary issue began immediately after the council closed up routine business of the regular session and alderman Earl Thompson of the Eighth ward presented the long-awaited report of his Personnel Committee, containing a proposed schedule of salary adjustments.

The report provided increases principally for the police, fire and street department, but listed no increases in many departments.

Nonn Protests
The fact that the report ignored a number of veteran employees brought a stormy protest from Alderman Walter Nonn of the Fifth Ward who was the first to take the floor after the report was presented. A resulting series of amendments took up the rest of the meeting.

"You've given raises to certain employees here, but you've ignored our oldtime employees on the grounds that they're already getting too much money. Our controller, the inspectors and some of our older employees have been left off the list," Nonn said.

Thompson had moved for approval of the committee's full report, which would have included the wage increases as outlined. He explained that the recommendations had tried to set up a scale comparable to state salaries and those of other municipalities in an attempt to set fair salaries. He said the committee felt justified in the report.

The report, as presented to the council, called for a police department salary schedule that would provide a $10 per month base salary adjustment for probationary patrolmen; a $12.50 per month base salary adjustment for patrolmen and detectives of one year service or more; a $25 monthly salary increase for sergeants, lieutenants, captains, chief of detectives, assistant chief of police and chief of police; an additional clothing allowance of $25 a year; and one additional holiday, on Good Friday.

Fire Department Schedule
A similar schedule was provided for the fire department; a $10 per month salary adjustment for probationary firemen of the first six months; $12.50 for probationary firemen of the second six months; $3 for firemen of one year or more; a $25 per month salary increase for engineers, captain, assistant fire chief and fire chief; additional holiday on Good Friday; and one additional week of vacation for members of the department with 30 years or more service.

The report also established a $25 monthly raise for all firemen, laborers and chauffeurs of the street department. Other changes were listed on an individual basis.

Alderman Gerald Parney of the Sixth ward challenged Thompson's motion for approval of the report as a whole. He said that he felt some of the raises should be separated from others for voting purposes, and that there must be additional input by the council. "I don't know how the committee can move for approval of the whole report," he said.

Nonn again took the floor to fight for salary increases for the most valued employees who have been doing all the work. Look at our controller, we have the best controller in the state. Just because he gets $700 a month, you say he's getting too much money and don't offer him a raise."

Strike Ends At SWIU Campus
About 500 workmen went back to their jobs following settlement of a strike growing out of a two-week-old jurisdictional dispute. Work on the $25 million dollar campus had been halted Monday.

The dispute involved operation of a crane installing electrical transformers. Operating Engineers local 520 protested operation of the crane by a member of the Electrical Workers Union and picketed the electrical sub-contractor, R. Dron Electrical Co. of Granite City.

Removal of pickets took place after 11 unions called in a representative of the AFL-CIO Building Trades Council from the city to help settle the dispute. Members of all building trades unions had refused to cross the informational picket line, except for about 40 "united" electrical workers who continued to work.

William Horstman, secretary of the Alton-Belleview-East St. Louis Building Trades Council, said the dispute "has been settled for the time being." Details were not announced. He said work will be resumed but the issue will be mediated.

Mayor Steps In
Mayor Farney took a minute to say "I am a politician and I am not here to help anyone but the city."

Thompson said, "You can't. Nonn referred to it as an amendment to it and we have to vote first on the amendment."

Mayor Farney said, "If the motion is a substantive, you don't have anything to amend, so the motion is withdrawn."

Thompson asked the council if it wanted to handle the report from the Personnel Committee. He said that would be the way to handle it.

"Go ahead," said the mayor. "I can stay here until 2 or 3 o'clock, if you can."

Rutledge suggested a 10-minute recess. He said, "If you don't have anything to amend, so the motion is withdrawn."

Following the recess, Rutledge announced that a compromise proposal had been worked out. He pointed out that to go over the report item by item, voting on each salary increase proposed in the report, would require 34 separate roll call votes. He said the time required for discussion on each proposal would be too long.

Suggests Alternative
Rutledge said that as an alternative, he suggested that a fund of $40,000 to be included in the budget to cover the salary increases, which could be worked out later. The $40,000 would "cover everything" he said, but he would not be able to say how much of it would be used in the form of a motion.

Nonn objected that "if you set up a $40,000 fund, it's the amount that will be spent. Your bargaining power will be gone."

"That is not true," Rutledge responded. "At this point, Mayor Farney broke in."

"This budget has to be completed this month and it is being delayed all this bickering for no reason at all. Now, you can bicker all you want. I'll be here every night for the rest of the month to finish this job, but you can be sure that if I'm here, I'll see to it that everyone of you are here, too."

It was at this stage of the meeting that Rutledge moved for adjournment, but the mayor pointed out that a motion already was on the floor.

Out of Order
A motion was advanced in order any time," Rutledge said. "The mayor, however, ruled the motion out of order and called for a vote on the proposal to insert a lump sum of $100,000 in the budget and work out salary adjustments later. There were five negative votes, leaving the motion one short of the nine required for passage."

"Well," said the mayor, "I'm advising you gentlemen what to do."

Ford Johnson, alderman of the Eighth Ward, made a counter proposal at this point. He moved that the council approve the report as a whole, with the understanding that the council would have to take action on how salary raises were to be handled. This was to be determined later.

Final Attempt
In a final attempt to reach a compromise, Rutledge asked the council members to vote on the motion.

"If I proposed a $45,000 lump sum for the budget, which would be sufficient to cover $35,000 salary raises for all employees, would anyone be interested in voting for it?"

"Anyone voting for it isn't enough," Mayor Farney interjected. "It takes nine to vote for it to carry it."

Several aldermen called out in favor of such a motion and Rutledge moved the $45,000 be approved. The motion carried and the council adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday. Whittier and Sternberg cast the only dissenting votes on the motion for a $15,000 salary figure.

After the motion had carried, Rutledge said: "This motion was put as that would adjust the things. The way some of the aldermen have talked here tonight we are here to give money away. We are not. We are guardians of the taxpayers' money and we are here to run this city like a business. We are not the union; we are the management."

While the $45,000 figure to cover salary raises was finally approved after two hours of argument, there was no action on how salary raises were to be handled. This was to be determined later.

Objects to One-Year Basis

San Whittier of the Second Ward objected to the fact that salary agreements suggested in the report were on a one-year basis. "Next year they'll come back and want the same thing again," Whittier said.

Thompson, joined by Richard Fry of the Sixth Ward, also a member of the Personnel Committee, pointed out that a new plan for a permanent schedule to be worked out during the next nine months remaining in the current year.

He said the present report would cover current requirements for the budget and give the committee time to establish a more permanent operating wage scale.

G. H. Sternberg of the Seventh Ward pointed out that the Personnel Committee, of which he is the third member, would like to work out a new salary system because the incentive pay scale has "evaporated."

"I thought this was pretty good report and I had no idea it would be received like this," Sternberg said.

Sternberg explained that consistent pay raises from year to year have wiped out differences that used to provide incentive for working toward higher rank or a better job.

"There's no reason for a patrolman to study and work to be a sergeant for only $3 a month difference in pay," he said. "Incentive has always been rewarding and it is the system under which this country operates."

Thompson said he hoped to take that into consideration when we work out a new wage scale.

At this point, Thompson withdrew his motion for approval of the report as a whole. But Sternberg, who had made the second motion to the Personnel Committee, refused to withdraw his second, which was that the motion stand for a vote.

Of the 13 aldermen present, 10 voted against the motion, which left the report open for further discussion and separate action on individual items.

Some there had been considerable objection to the allowance of a $35 per month salary adjustment for police and firemen, higher than the $25 monthly increase for others, Thompson moved that the report be accepted as a whole with the $35 trimmed to $25.

Nonn jumped to the floor and tacked an amendment to this motion to include a salary increase for the city controller, two city inspectors, the building inspector, assistant controller and two city hall custodians.

"You can't," Nonn referred to the amendment to it and we have to vote first on the amendment."

Mayor Farney said, "If the motion is a substantive, you don't have anything to amend, so the motion is withdrawn."

Thompson asked the council if it wanted to handle the report from the Personnel Committee. He said that would be the way to handle it.

"Go ahead," said the mayor. "I can stay here until 2 or 3 o'clock, if you can."

5000 to Attend Classes in First 2 Classroom Buildings As SWIU Campus Opens Sept. 22

Students who will attend the first classes at the Southwest Illinois University Quad-City campus site this fall will begin registering Aug. 2. Fall term classes in two of the five large buildings under construction are scheduled to start Sept. 22.

By that time, it is expected that 41 classrooms will be ready for use in the John Mason Peck general classrooms building and the Elizabeth P. Levey Memorial Library will initially be stocked with 180,000 volumes.

First stage construction of a science building should be completed by the opening of the winter term in January, and a communications building an university center are scheduled for completion later in the year.

Service 5000 Initially

Registrar John H. Schnabel said the new campus will serve 5000 students in September, mostly upperclassmen. Some freshman and sophomore courses will be offered, however.

While most universities and colleges in the state have already closed enrollment for the fall, SWIU will probably be able to accept all students who meet admission standards, Schnabel said, because it will continue to operate its teaching centers at Alton and East St. Louis. The two centers had an enrollment of more than 6600 last fall, out of a total SWIU-SWIU enrollment of 20,400.

Advance registration is currently underway at the centers and will continue through Sept. 3. Registration at Quad-City-Edwardsville will run from Aug. 2 through Sept. 3 and again from Sept. 7 to Sept. 14.

Day, Night, Weekends

Even upper level courses will be moved to the centers after the enrollment peak has been reached at the new campus, but the fall term catalog lists nearly 500 class sessions in the two new buildings on the 2600-acre campus, many of them set for evenings and on Saturdays.

Most, fine arts and science courses will not be offered at the new campus until the science building is finished.

Council Rejects Zoning Appeals Board Rulings

The Granite City city council ruled after a 30-minute discussion Monday night that the Zoning Board of Appeals had overstepped its authority in granting permission for operation of beauty shops in residential properties. The council held that such requests would have to go before the planning commission as a rezoning matter hereafter.

The issue was brought to the council's attention by Alderman Paul Rutledge of the Fourth Ward, chairman of the planning and zoning committee, who introduced a series of Appeals Board decisions made after hearings conducted last week. Three of those decisions involved operation of beauty shops in residences.

Rutledge's Appeals Board decisions came up only a matter of minutes after Walter Noun of the Fifth Ward, chairman of the ordinance committee, had balked at presenting a series of ordinances presented him by City Attorney Richard Allen involving rezoning matters that already had been turned down by the city's zoning commission.

"Sick and Tired"

Allen had given Noun a number of prepared ordinances concerning rezoning of residential properties to commercial zonings. Noun had read one of the ordinances for establishment of a real estate office when the question came up as to whether the matter had been rejected by the zoning commission.

He asked Allen why he had given him the ordinances, and attorney explained that they had been prepared by the attorneys for the parties involved and that the ordinances did not actually say that the zoning board had rejected the issues previously.

Noun said he could see no reason for reading any of the other ordinances if they were of the same nature. Allen said they had been given to him under the same circumstances, and Noun said he would delay the bills to another council session until investigation could be made to determine if the premises involved had been previously approved or rejected by the zoning commission.

Rutledge, as chairman of the planning and zoning committee, then introduced a resolution approving the rezoning of land adjoining Granite City Housing Authority units for development of 100 more Anchorages "housing for elderly" apartments. The council also approved the annexation of a tract of land for Henry Ross, to become known as Dream Villa No. 4, a subdivision that has been zoned for R-1, R-2 and R-3 dwellings.

The approval was granted subject to approval of sewer drainage facilities under residential inspection by city engineers.

Approve Carports
Rutledge then presented rulings of the Zoning Appeals Board which included the approval of two variations of zoning for construction of carports, one for construction of a porch within five and a half feet of the building line, and the operation of three beauty shops in residential areas.

One of the beauty shop rulings previously had resulted in considerable protest from persons within the neighborhood who had appeared at the Appeals Board hearing. This case involved operation of a beauty shop by Diane Richey at 2800 Sunset drive, which had been in operation.

Rutledge said that he believed the Board of Appeals was assuming the role of the zoning commission when it gave authority to operate a beauty shop because it was, in effect, rezoning the property to a commercial zoning.

"I don't think the Board of Appeals has the right to make these rulings, and believe that these cases will have to be reprocessed through the planning and zoning commission," Rutledge said.

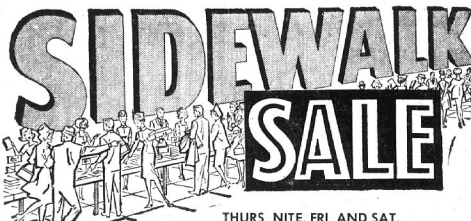

Up to Zoning Board
Rutledge pointed out that the carport rulings and porch construction ruling were within the province of the Board of Appeals, but that establishment of commercial businesses in residences becomes a zoning matter and therefore is within the authority of the zoning commission.

San Whitmore, alderman of the Second Ward, objected to the ruling in one case in which he said all rules had been complied with and there were no objections from neighbors.

The three cases in which the council concurred in Rutledge's suggestion that they be rejected included proposed beauty shop operations by Diane Richey at 2800 Sunset, Marlene Brown at 3007 Warren street and Barbara Swindle at 2230 Edwards street.

LOOK LIVELY

Each year, poison ivy and poison oak cause nearly two million cases of skin poisoning—cases serious enough to require either medical attention or at least a day of restricted activity, and sometimes both.

The best protection against these plants is to know what they look like. Though the shape and sizes of the leaves may vary, they always appear in a cluster of three.

So, next time you go camping, hiking or even picnicking in your own back yard, look for leaflets three—and let it be.

There is strong evidence that continued exposure to sun weathered and ages the skin. Other than the psychological uplift of sport—like a good tan, the primary benefit of sunlight is the formation of vitamin D which is already supplied in ample amounts by the daily American diet.

BETTER VEGETABLE PRICES
The price of fresh vegetables, which this spring have seemed high to many shoppers, should drop soon if weather conditions remain favorable.

Letting prices are already considerably less than they were a while ago. And the quality is better. Cabbage prices, too, have become more reasonable.

During the next few weeks, you should see a seasonal increase in the supply—and a drop in the price—of such vegetables as cabbage, cucumbers, carrots, dry beans, green peppers, tomatoes and watermelon.

There is, however, one big tip in this prediction. If all depends upon the weather. For the past three years, vegetable crops along the east coast have suffered severely because of dry weather. So far this year, conditions have been good. But a drought could upset the vegetable crop and keep prices up.

THE RIGHT COLLAR
A man can improve his appearance by wearing the shirt-collared style that suits his physical type. Since women buy more than 60% of the men's shirts, it's important that they know something about collar styles and their appropriateness.

The collar should flatter a man's face. The man with a long, slim face or torso can add needed width by wearing a spread collar. Although this style looks good on almost any man, the extra width between the points gives the illusion of breadth that the long-necked or slim-faced man needs.

Button-down collars are available in a variety of point lengths. The authentic roll button-down, for example, has points three inches long. This style is especially good for the full-faced man. Shorter versions ranging from 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 inches in length are suitable for the long-necked man.

Button-down collars are casual and youthful-looking for dress or sport wear. They also go well with sport jackets.

Pin collars with either rounded ends or points are considered a dress style. The snap-tab collar, another dress collar, is constructed to fit high on the neck. Although it looks good with the average face, it doesn't flatter the man with a short neck. The short-necked man needs to have as much of his neck showing as possible to give an illusion of length.

The regular pointed collar continues to be the most popular style. It is a classic that is becoming to all faces and appropriate for every occasion.

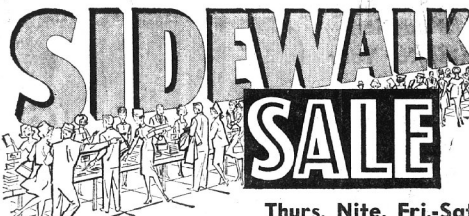

DRIVING AT NIGHT? REDUCE YOUR SPEED
Reduce your speed when you drive at night, and don't overdrive your headlights.

Driving at night presents far more dangers than daytime driving. For example, it is difficult whether your range of visibility is sufficient to identify the position, distance and nature of an object within the few seconds of time your car will travel several hundred feet if you are driving at more than 45 miles per hour.

At 60 miles per hour your car is moving 88 feet per second. The average driver requires almost 400 feet to bring his car to a stop.

Over 25 million women—or more than one-third of all women over 14 years of age—work for pay away from home, or in a family business or on a family farm. These women make up one-third of all workers in this country.

Cpl. Cotton Returning To U.S. from Viet Nam

Marine Lance Cpl. James A. Cotton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Cotton of Venice, has left Da Nang, Viet Nam, where he served since April as a member of Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 531.

After spending 12 months in the Far East, the entire squadron has been ordered to a new, as yet undisclosed, duty station in the United States. The unit saw duty in Japan, Okinawa and the Philippine Islands prior to going to Viet Nam.

Most of the Marines will be assigned to other organizations upon their return to the U.S. While in Viet Nam, the squadron flew more than 1100 sorties against enemy targets, averaging about one ton of bombs and 40 rockets per mission. The squadron flew the jet F4B Phantom II, capable of speeds in excess of 3600 miles an hour and altitudes in excess of 50,000 feet.

Venice Per Capita Fire Loss for Six Months 89 Cents

Loss from fires in the city of Venice during the first six months of 1965 amounted to $2885 on property and $1925 on contents, resulting in a per capita loss of 89 cents, the Venice volunteer fire department has reported to the city council.

The report, prepared by fire department secretary Leo A. Schaub, showed the department answered 75 calls during the six months.

Twenty-five, or a third of all the calls, were for grass and rubbish fires, while 13 were fires at dwellings. Eleven of the calls were for truck or auto fires. Other calls included: railroad, three; bridge, two; rescue, two; sheds and garages, five; outcrops, seven; and false alarms, seven.

Value of property involved in all fire calls was $61,000, and value of contents involved in fires—other than railroad or industrial—was $14,500, the department said.

Tuberculosis often exists without the presence of symptoms or signs. Tuberculosis infection can exist in apparently well and healthy individuals. It is a serious, chronic disease that does not always show itself by coughing, chest pain, or weight loss. The disease can be fatal if not treated.

TEACHER DISCIPLINE

Gov. Otto Kerner has signed into law a House bill which provides that in all matters relating to discipline, a teacher shall stand in the relation of parent to the pupil.

"This bill will receive the support of various teacher organizations, as well as administrators and parents," Gov. Kerner said. "This legislation was urged, not to allow teachers to beat children, but rather to provide a defense against harassment suits."

"One of the greatest handicaps to teaching is a pupil who taunts a teacher's inability to enforce discipline and threatens to sue if the teacher approaches," Gov. Kerner said.

"This bill will not allow child beating or brutality in schools, but the present law allows a parent to beat or brutalize his child. Further, the teacher traditionally has stood in loco parentis and, in a sense, this bill does not allow a child to sue a teacher for negligence."

MORE GRAIN SHIPPED
Amount of grain shipped by vessels from Chicago to foreign ports has increased more than 20% during the current season, according to Robert M. Schneider, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

A total of 25,116,000 bushels of various grains was loaded and shipped in June. This figure compared with 20,762,000 bushels moved during the same period one year ago, is an increase of 25.6%.

Corn shipments lead all other grains, with slightly over 24 million bushels loaded through June. About 5.6 million bushels of hard winter wheat and 5.4 million bushels of yellow soybeans were also shipped, Schneider said. Grain shipment by vessel to other countries has increased more than 20% to date over the 1964 shipping season.

TREE FERTILIZATION
The easiest method of applying fertilizers to shade trees is by using a series of recent tests that the laboratory methods commonly used.

Results of the tests are reported in a 12-page booklet, "Experimental Field Studies on Shade Tree Fertilization," Dr. Huiwen Muhl, chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey, said last week.

The booklet explains four methods of fertilizer application for each of three species of trees, oak, white ash, and honey locust.

Trees that had fertilizer applied to the leaves produced no greater growth than trees that received no fertilizer. Trees that received fertilizer broadcast on the surface of the soil produced slightly greater total growth than trees that received dry fertilizer in holes made with a punch bar or liquid fertilizer injected into the soil.

The booklet tells the kinds of fertilizers used in the tests, the rates at which they were applied, and details the methods of application. It also suggests a simple method for estimating the amount of fertilizer needed for shade trees. Single copies of the booklet, known as Biological Notes No. 33, may be obtained from the Illinois Natural History Survey, Urbana, 61803.

DISNEY BOOSTS ILLINOIS
A native Illinoisan and a longtime Lincoln buff, Walt Disney is making available to Illinois a state tourism booth adjoining the Disneyland Lincoln show at the internationally famous educational and entertainment park at Anaheim, Calif.

The booth will be manned by native Illinois guides, trained in Illinois facts and tourism information by the Division of Tourism of the Illinois Board of Economic Development.

They will offer travel brochures on the "Land of Lincoln," inviting Disneyland guests at the Lincoln show to continue on in their travels and visit the actual scenes of Abraham Lincoln's life in Illinois.

In addition, the guides will urge visitors to select additional travel and more specific Illinois travel information to be sent to their homes through a registration plan.

CORN STANDS EXCELLENT
Most recent corn stands are excellent throughout Illinois, according to the Illinois Crop Reporting Service. The condition of the crop is about normal, although most areas throughout the state need rain.

Tuberculosis is curable. As yet there is no specific cure for the bacteria. Anti-tuberculous drugs, modern surgery, rest, and good nutrition in health surroundings, preferably a sanatorium, are essential in the treatment of the disease. The earlier the case is discovered the more rapid will be the recovery.

SIU Summer Enrollment At 11,088; Up 18.2%

Led by a 48% increase over last year in the number of freshman students, Southern Illinois University's summer quarter enrollment has surpassed the 11,000 mark, according to preliminary figures by registrar Robert A. McGrath.

A report this week shows 11,088 summer students, an increase of 18.2% over a year ago.

Included are 7275 on the Carbondale campus, up 16.3%, and 3813 on the SWIU Quad-Cities-Edwardsville campus, up 21.9%. McGrath said the increase was reflected at all student levels except the junior class which dropped 3% from last year. The number of sophomore students increased by 32.9%, seniors by 18.5% and graduate students by 10%.

"As there are additional workshops and short course programs starting later in the summer, we can anticipate another 200 or so registrants," McGrath said. He added these should affect senior and graduate student totals to the greatest extent.

Labor, Business, Education, Farm Groups Agreed On Revenue Ballot

(The following discussion of the 1965 state legislative session from the Springfield, Ill., Illinois State Chamber of Commerce publication.)

The major achievement by any standards would be to include passage of a resolution to put a compromise revenue article on the ballot before Illinois voters in 1968.

The Master Plan for Higher Education, with some minor changes, will go into effect as a result of bipartisan legislative approval.

Taxes will stay just about where they are. Business will get a lift from creation of a new state Department of Business and Economic Development and go-between legislation for (a) private business, (b) development, credit corporations.

Public aid costs will not skyrocket next two years as they have in the past, and sound fiscal and administrative legislation was passed to tighten the lid on costs of existing public aid legislation.

It is likely that there will be changes in present courtroom practices concerning wrongful death and negligence—both of which have been put down in harmful order. So were dozens of civil suits.

Agreements with the help of management in Illinois, were worked out for amending the state's workers' and unemployment compensation laws.

Proposals for a corporate franchise tax increase were rejected as were several other objectionable changes in the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Act. A proposed 2% corporate income tax did not win.

Several bills that would have opened the door to unlimited home rule for municipalities—accompanied by corresponding taxes—were thwarted.

Modernize Constitution

Far and away the most important stride taken this session by legislators, falling reprobation was the amendment to the constitution that would modernize the shaky, old 1955 Revenue Article of the Illinois Constitution.

Their answer was clear, loud and impressive.

By whipping votes in both houses—a combined total of 81% of all lawmakers—they decided to submit a compromise revenue article amendment for their approval in 1968.

The product of months—and in many cases years—of probing and frank analysis of the present revenue articles, the compromise article represents the united voice of the legislative forces in the Illinois assembly: agriculture, labor, education and business.

They were brought together with the help of the State Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce until its adoption was assured by the General Assembly.

First mid agreement and then outward solidarity among the four groups helped convince legislators by session's end that the time had arrived to ask voters to abandon the outmoded 1955 Revenue Article.

And offers and counter-offers by virtually all segments of the state economy interested in legislation, the moving force in knitting them together was Norman J. Beatty, manager of the State Chamber's Tax Department.

Beatty, an attorney and tax specialist, guided the compromise from its conception to its final floor votes: 143 to 18 in the House and 46 to 7 in the Senate.

Legislators and other spokesmen for the Revenue Article amendment put Beatty's seal on the compromise as the way to ultimate compromise. He worked closely with the Chamber's State and Local Taxation Committee of which he is secretary in the almost hourly technical developments on revenue compromise as adjustment neared.

Would Limit Legislation

The proposed constitutional change was drafted by a special 10-man committee (five from each house) who, like Beatty, literally labored over its provisions until mere hours away from the deadline for introducing their unanimous recommendation to the legislature.

If A Meteor Answers, Hang Up

(Helle, Mo., Banner)

Maybe all those grandchildren will inherit something after all now that the first Communist satellite is about to orbit, their grandfathers seem a little less nervous in tucking away a few shares for them.

We admit we had our doubts when a company with no immediate prospect of coming to market on the market at $20 a share, shot up to over $70 and still more around $80.

But with Early Bird in position, ready for testing, the commercial use of space takes on a certain inevitability.

Revenues may not begin right away, but the Communications Satellite Corporation, no longer an earthbound dream.

43 Nations Participating

Political and economic questions remain. With 43 nations participating, there are complicated matters of giving

If approved by voters in the November 1968 election, the amendment would:

1. Limit the legislature's power to enact a flat rate income tax of more than 3% without going to the voters for approval.
2. Even with voter approval, the tax never could exceed 3%.
3. Individuals and corporations would pay the same rate. The legislature would decide after the 1968 referendum approval whether there will be an income tax.
4. Ban forever any other tax on Illinois business that is measured by its income, such as a corporate franchise tax measured by net income.

3. Replace all personal property taxes in Illinois if the legislature decides to enact an income tax. The replacement would provide that proceeds from at least 1% of any income tax would be returned to local taxing units, which depend on the personal property levy for revenues.

4. Remove present constitutional restrictions preventing the legislature from imposing a "true" sales tax. The so-called sales tax now in effect actually is referred to as a Retail Occupation Tax because the present constitution has been interpreted to mean that there cannot be a sales tax.

5. Let the legislature divide tangible personal property into four classes for taxation purposes. The division now requires all property to be taxed like as one class. This new measure would make the class division but merely permits it the legislature to do so. It means that it can abolish any or all of the four classes if it chooses.

6. The four classes and personal effects which aren't used to produce income.

7. Business and farm inventories, including grain, livestock and poultry.

8. Motor vehicles, ships, boats and aircraft.

9. All other tangible personal property except farm machinery and equipment.

10. Allow the legislature to divide tangible personal property into four classes for taxation purposes. The intangible tax now levied on the Illinois estate, including stocks, bonds, and other securities, would not be enacted to replace it.

11. Legalize the present assessment practice in Cook county—where different kinds of real estate are taxed at different levels according to their use.

12. The constitution presently prohibits taxing units from singling out various kinds of real property for taxation. The new provision would not be permitted in Cook county.

13. It became apparent in final negotiations that the Cook county provision had to be included before the legislature would give favorable consideration. The provision means, in effect, that where there are no other kind of property in Cook, the differences will not be allowed to become inequitable.

14. The constitution binding the authority of school districts in Illinois. School districts could be permitted to increase their indebtedness to 10% of the assessed value of taxable property within the district.

15. The limit now is 5%.

16. All other taxing units would be limited to a 5% indebtedness figure unless the legislature did away with personal property taxes. At that point, the limits would be the same as for counties.

17. At that point, the limits would be the same as for counties.

18. For all other tax units.

19. For all other tax units.

20. For all other tax units.

21. For all other tax units.

22. For all other tax units.

23. For all other tax units.

Parked Auto Scraped

A car driven by Paul W. Timmon, 3013 West 20th street, scraped the left front side of a parked auto owned by Imogene Patton, 2809 Cayuga street, in front of a laundromat at Denver street and Rock road at 8:25 a.m. Tuesday. He was pulling in to park, police were told.

Cars Collide, Damaged

Two autos were damaged in Madison at 7:50 p.m. Monday in a collision at McCambridge avenue and Edwardsville road. Police listed a car driven by Doris J. Neal, 222 Kerr street, Venice, as a vehicle headed north on McCambridge and a car driven west on Edwardsville road by James A. Barr, Edwardsville. The Neal car was damaged on the right front and the Barr auto on the left front.

Raut Active in Distribution Of Book on Life of Jesus

Trwin Raut, first secretary of the Granite City YMCA, who served in that office for many years before moving to Sedalia, Mo., is in the fifth year of promoting a project dear to his heart—distribution of a book, "The Life of Jesus in the Words of the Four Gospels."

Raut was responsible for the book reaching public circulation following the death of its author, Edward F. Carey. He considers it to be a new translation of the Bible—easily read and pleasingly different in that people may read the biography of Jesus the same as they would read the biography of some great but mortal man.

Because of his interest, the author's widow upon exhaustion of the first printing of the publication, asked Raut if he would help in getting out a new edition. Raut obtained printing bids and sent them to Mrs. Carey, but was informed a short time later that she also had died.

A nephew, E. G. Rawson, was interested in carrying on the work of distributing the book and told Raut the heirs would give up all interest if he wished to take over the work.

Raut met with friends who put up money to republish the book. As a result, publication and distribution of the book became a project of the First Methodist Church, Sedalia, at which Raut is chairman of the Commission on Christian Social Concerns.

He related that he became involved in the background of Mr. Carey and how he came to write the book. When Mr. Carey was a student at Andover Theological School in 1901, he studied Greek.

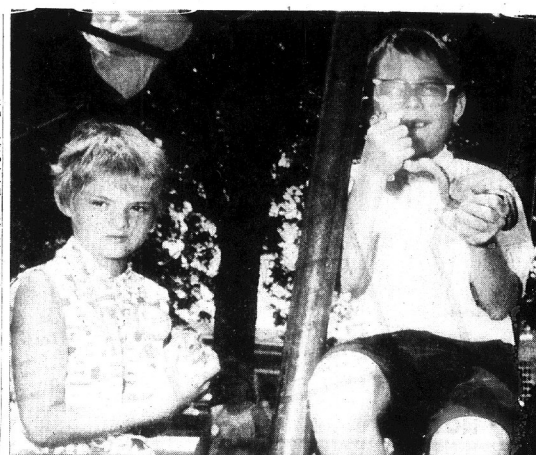

As a result, he learned that in 17 A.D. a scholar by the name of Tatien had undertaken to weave the four Gospels into one story of the life of Jesus. Mr. Carey thought that Tatien's work was not complete, and decided that he would do it.

Raut frequently is asked why the First Methodist Church was interested in republishing the book.

"My answer is that unless a person is a student, it is often difficult to understand the Bible. The Gospels, for instance, contain four accounts of the life of Jesus. They were written at different times from different points of view."

"It is just as if four witnesses in a court were testifying to the same event. Their stories would differ in some details but be essentially true."

"Mr. Carey's book gives the combined complete story of the life of Jesus in the words of the Gospels, interwoven into one easy-to-understand story."

Damaged in Madison

Cars driven by William S. Condis, 17, of 1302 Rhodes street, and Leroy E. Daughy, St. Louis, were damaged Monday afternoon at Third street and Madison avenue. Condis was headed north and Daughy was headed west on Third street. Condis' car was damaged on the right front and Daughy's on the left front.

Matches Cause Fire

A girl playing with matches caused a fire in an upstairs bedroom at the home of William Harris, 2428 Benton street, at 9:10 a.m. Tuesday. Firemen estimated damage at $500 to the furnishings and walls.

4th Annual 'Methodist Holiday' on Saturday

Camp meeting Methodism will be the order of the day in modern version Saturday when Methodists by the hundreds from southern Illinois converge on the DuQuoin state fairgrounds to celebrate the fourth annual Methodist Holiday.

The program will begin at 3:30 p.m. and continue into the night, with time out for a family picnic lunch on the fairgrounds or in the nearby community. Gospel singing, preaching and drama will highlight the event, now an annual midsummer project of the Southern Illinois Conference Board of Lay Activities, led by Everett Thompson of Sesser.

The afternoon program includes a 150-voice choir of Methodist men and the choir of Wesley-Bethel Methodist Church, East St. Louis.

Many of the tunes in the new "Methodist Hymnal" to be published in 1966 will be sung for the first time in southern Illinois as the audience participates at intervals in camp meeting gospel songests.

Walter P. Anderson, director of the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation, Raleigh, will speak on "Enabling Power for Every Day Living."

Miss Margaret Swift, director of worldwide Methodist Crusade Scholarships, New York City, will present a number of scholars in native dress in a two-hour variety production at night. Carman Potter, Winchester, nationally-recognized auctioneer, will entertain.

Marine Pfc. Robert E. Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Emery, 1904 Joy avenue, a member of the 2nd Battalion, 5th Marine Division on Okinawa. Entire battalion has completed advanced combat training with his battalion.

The training was in preparation for his unit's "transplacement" overseas to the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. Entire battalions in the transplacement system move as units from California to the Far East as part of a continuous training and replacement cycle.

While in the Orient, the battalion will undergo mountain warfare and cold weather training in Japan, counter-insurgency warfare training on Okinawa and in the Philippines, and take part in amphibious operations throughout the Western Pacific.

After 15 months in the Far East, the battalion will return to Camp Pendleton for advanced mountain, desert and amphibious training exercises.

Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 is conducting a drive among the local membership to increase the number of subscriptions to the "Newcastle," a newspaper published and printed by the Illinois Elks lodges.

Exalted Ruler James R. Kenney said this week that subscribers will receive 11 issues per year and that the publication covers Elks lodge news from throughout the state. Before you make the biggest investment of your life...

be sure it's a Medallion Home

CHANCES ARE the biggest check you'll ever sign is the one that closes the deal for your new home.

This is no time for guesswork. How about the electric wiring, for instance? Most of it's inside the walls—how do you know if the job's done right?

Easy. Look for the Medallion.

Many builders display it proudly right at the door. The Medallion on a home certifies that it meets the highest standards of electrical convenience. You'll be assured of adequate wiring, heavy duty circuits, special purpose circuits, general purpose circuits, outlets, light wherever it is needed, and at least four major appliances, including an electric range.

It's your money—use it wisely. Whether you build or buy, insist on a Medallion Home.

ILLINOIS POWER COMPANY

JUST ONE MORE WAY WE'RE AT YOUR SERVICE

The Medallion, awarded by Illinois Power Company to homes which meet specific electric standards of excellence, helps take the guesswork out of selecting a new house.

Nation's Largest Flood Protection Project Supervised by St. Louis Army Engineer Corps District

The St. Louis District, Army Corps of Engineers, has the responsibility for flood control and navigation on 300 miles of the Mississippi River from Hannibal, Mo., to Cairo, Ill., plus 80 miles on the Illinois River.

Headed by Col. James B. Meanor Jr., its work includes floodwalls, levees and pumping stations in this area—largest flood protection project of its kind in the U.S.—the Carlyle and Shelbyville dams, planning of the Joanna and Rend Lake dams and reservoirs and study of the Meramec River Basin.

Overall objective of the Engineer Corps civil works program is full and efficient development, utilization and conservation of the nation's water resources. Continuing construction projects of the St. Louis District have a value of $554 million.

RIGHT — RIVER BLASTING during removal of large rocks from the Mississippi River navigation channel two miles downstream from Thebes, Ill.

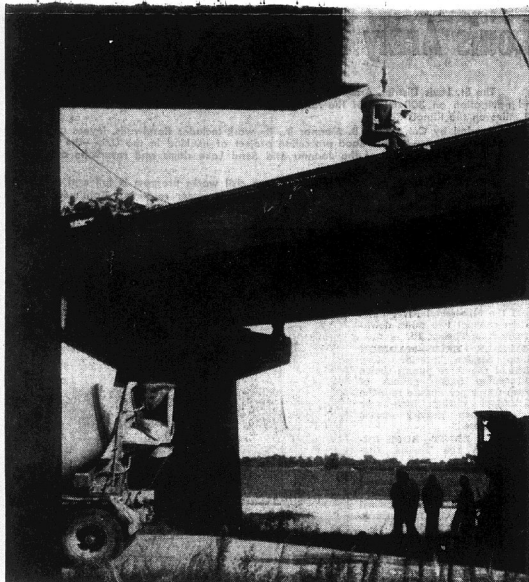

MIDDLE LEFT — MADISON Pump Station interior view. Each of the three pumps shown will pump 54,000 gallons of storm water per minute into the Mississippi during high-water periods when gravity drains must be closed.

MIDDLE RIGHT — ROCK REMOVAL in the Thebes, Ill., Commerce Mo., reach of the Mississippi. A Corps of Engineers vessel is pushing a barge loaded with some of the boulders—weighing up to 20 tons—removed to eliminate navigation hazards during low-water periods.

Deck of 2 New Canal Bridges Being Poured

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

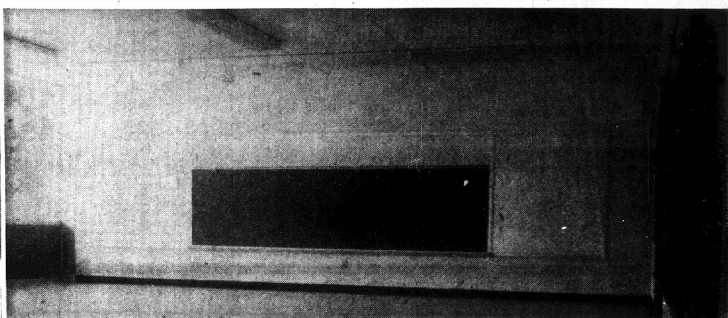

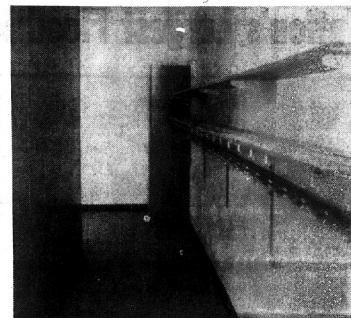

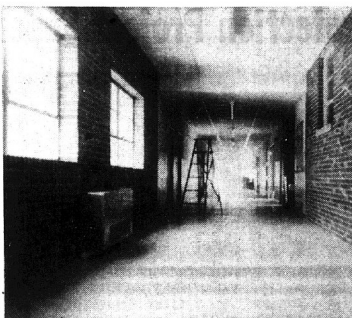

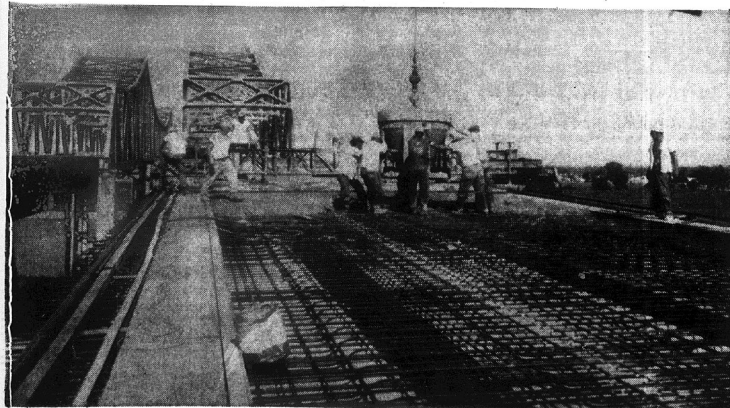

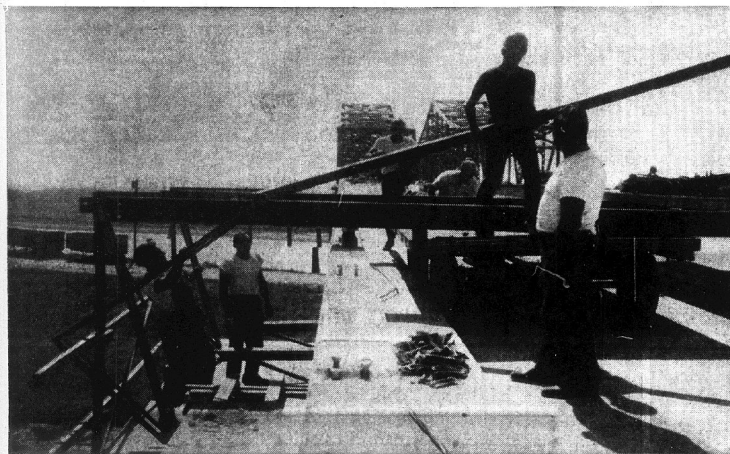

MOVING RAPIDLY is construction work on the two new bridges that will carry Interstate Route 270 over the Chain of Rocks Canal. In contrast, there has been a delay involving Missouri workers on the western half of the new Mississippi River bridge scheduled to carry the same highway.

LEFT—Height of the spans near the canal bank is indicated in this view from ground level. Concrete was being poured to form the bridge surface when this picture was taken.

BELOW — Workmen place metal rods preparatory to paving of the canal bridge surface. The project is scheduled for completion late this year.

THIRD PICTURE — With the new surface and concrete parapet walls already installed, construction workers remove wooden forms. This view is toward the west, with the superstructure of the twin spans in the background.

First Project of 1964 School Bond Issue Completed

FOUR CLASSROOMS have been added to the Niedringhaus elementary school as the first May 1964 Granite City school construction bond issue project to be completed. Furniture must still be placed in the rooms. The other three bond projects are Parkview grade school, Grigsby junior high and a high school addition.

The $79,235 wing at Niedringhaus was constructed by the Ed Moore contracting firm of Granite City under a contract approved by the school board last Oct. 13. It was financed by a $60,000 bond issue allocation, plus $19,235 provided from regular school operating funds for the 1964-65 fiscal year which ended June 30. Virgil H. Dulgeroff was the architect.

Farm Column

By Truman M. May
Madison County Farm Adviser

If spring rains or a busy work schedule kept you from getting your forage crop planted, consider a late summer forage seedling. Alfalfa does very well seeded in late summer, except in dry years.

With a late summer forage seedling, you avoid competition from a small-grain companion crop. And usually weeds provide little competition for the forage plants at this time of year.

Lack of moisture can be a real problem in late summer. Also, late summer seedlings favor the grasses in the mixture. Most grasses grow faster than legumes during cool weather, often outcropping the legume plants. For best results, seed by the first of September. Keep the seed in the top half-inch of the soil. Mow the field after planting. Test your soil before planting alfalfa. If the pH level is below

6.0, alfalfa plants may start growing but they won't survive. With a pH level of less than 6.2, alfalfa will not yield well. Lime accordingly.

Use one of the vigorous varieties of alfalfa. DuPonts, Alfa and FD-100 are fast-growing varieties ideal for short-term studies. Vernal, Buffalo, Cody, Progress, WI-202 and 925 will work fine in both short or long-term rotations.

Officers of the Madison County Agricultural Extension Council were elected at the first meeting of the new 1965-66 Council. Charles C. Leach, East Alton, was elected chairman. Richard E. Ellis, St. Jacob, vice-chairman and Rudolph Kuttin, New Douglas, secretary.

Members of the Council are: Carl Baumann, Highland; Homer Bruns, Granite City; Richard E. Ellis, St. Jacob; Gordon G. Goss, Edwardsville; Donald A. Guseville, East Alton; Melvin H. Highland, Highland; For best results, seed by the first of September. Keep the seed in the top half-inch of the soil. Mow the field after planting. Test your soil before planting alfalfa. If the pH level is below

Alhambra; Udeil W. Wehling, Alhambra; Leach and Kuttin.

The County Extension Council in Agriculture is appointed each year by the director of the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

County Extension Councils are the official county groups cooperating with the Cooperative Extension Service educational programs. They have as their major responsibility the organization and conduct of these programs in the county.

Main responsibility of Extension Council members is to represent the people's interest in extension education. Names of persons nominated to serve on the council originate in the county.

County farm and home advisers are staff members of the University of Illinois who work with the Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Councils to plan the annual educational programs in each county and who are responsible for seeing that they are carried out.

For getting the best from your garden, harvest your vegetables at the right time. If you're using them fresh or putting them into your freezer, harvest before maturity. For canning, harvest more mature vegetables, if they'll withstand the additional cooking.

Some rules of thumb for harvesting:

Muskmelons—For the best flavor, pick at "full slip." At this stage, melons separate easily from the vine, leaving an indentation in the stem-end.

Sweet corn—During hot weather, harvest about 15 days after silking. For the best taste, use the corn right after picking.

String beans—For fresh use, pick the beans on the small size. In this way you'll get more top-quality beans over a longer period. However, if you're canning them, wait until full maturity. The important thing to keep in mind is to pick before the string develops in the pod.

Slicing cucumbers—Harvest before the cucumbers show any yellowing, but after they've reached maturity. Remove those that are overmature; otherwise they may kill the entire vine.

Wheat yields, test weights and moisture tests were affected by the heavy rains except where the grain was harvested before the rains came, but the crops can be considered good on most farms.

Losses were considerable in some bottomland fields and other slow-draining areas, or where harvesting was delayed for other reasons. Best yield reported from larger fields was 60 bushels per acre from a 20-acre field grown by Carl Unspring of Fort Ransom township. It was the Almon variety.

Madison county 4-H youths will demonstrate skill in handling farm tractors at the annual 4-H tractor driving contest at the county 4-H show at the fairgrounds in Highland, July 26. Boys who have completed one or more years of 4-H tractor projects are eligible to participate.

This is the first of several elimination events to select a state representative for the Western U. S. 4-H Tractor Operators Contest. The regional contest sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and the American Oil Foundation is expected to draw more than 20 state 4-H operators for competition at the University of Wisconsin.

Contestants entering the county contest must have satisfactorily completed work in tractor safety, care and maintenance, and gained experience at home in servicing and operating a farm tractor. Each contestant will demonstrate his ability in each of these areas in the contest.

The boys will be quizzed on the steps in servicing a tractor, and demonstrate operating skill with both a two- and four-wheel wagon attached. Skill in maneuvering the rugged course, safety precautions and time required will determine the score. The boy with the lowest penalty score is the winner.

Arrangements are being completed for the annual Madison County Fair at Highland, July 27-31. A new exhibition building will be used for the first time. There will be feature attractions at the arena each evening.
